100-Word Collage

Find 100 words in and around your classroom or home (e.g., words on cereal boxes, newspapers, magazines, pamphlets). Cut them out and glue them to this page or write them in the space provided to create a 100-word collage.

Write a poem using exactly 100 words. It can be as many stanzas as you would like and does not have to rhyme.

This image shows a blank sheet of white paper with horizontal ruling lines. The lines are evenly spaced and extend across the width of the page. At the bottom left corner, there is a blue logo consisting of a stylized 'R' followed by the word 'Reading' in a sans-serif font. The rest of the page is empty.

Me at 100

Fill in the sentence "At 100 years old I will _____"
_____

Draw a picture below to go with it.

A large, empty rectangular box with a thin blue border, intended for a child to draw a picture related to their sentence.

100 Years into the Future

Things will change a lot in 100 years. What do you think the world will be like? What cool inventions will there be? Draw a picture and write about the world 100 years into the future.

A large, empty rectangular box with a light blue border, intended for a child to draw a picture and write about the world 100 years into the future.

100 Books Paper Chain

Cut out 100 strips of paper for your paper chain. Ask students to write down the title of each book they read on the strips of paper. Use the paper strips to create a paper chain and string your paper chain around your classroom to celebrate reaching one hundred books!

Celebrate the 100th day of school by reading one or more books from RIF's 100 day of school collection.
